I. ABSTRACT
   A. Patrick Henry and Sojourner Truth are wonderful examples of persuasive speakers. The art of persuasive speaking and advertisement is not gone. It is something that surrounds everyone every minute of the day. This unit teaches students the art of using creative phrasing and emotional appeal to reach a targeted audience by giving them the chance to study two masters of persuasive speaking and by trying their hand at creating their own persuasive arguments.

II. OVERVIEW
   A. Concept Objectives
      1. Students will gain an awareness of culture around the world through the use of language, literature, writing, and media (adapted from K-4 B III-A 1,2,3)
   B. Content from the Core Knowledge Sequence
      1. Speeches (p. 87)

V. LESSONS

Lesson One: Persuasive Writing and Literary Terms (1 day: 45 minutes)

A. Daily Objectives
1. Concept Objective(s)
   a. Students will gain an awareness of culture around the world through the use of language, literature, writing, and media (adapted from K-4 B III-A 1,2,3)

2. Lesson Content
   a. Writing and Usage (p. 87)
      • Produce a variety of types of writing – including stories, reports, summaries, descriptions, poems, letters – with coherent structure in story line (K-4 B I-D)

3. Skill Objective(s)
   a. The students will use word identification strategies appropriately and automatically when encountering words (K-4 B I-D 1)
b. The students will identify key words and discover their relationships (K-4 B I-D 2)
c. The students will actively contribute to a discussion (K-4 B II-A 1)

B. Materials
1. Teacher copy of vocabulary word list (Appendix A)
2. Blank White Paper for each student
3. Pencils for each student
4. Copy of Dinah Zike. Big Book of Books and Activities (pg. 96-97)

C. Key Vocabulary
1. Persuade: A speaker must persuade the audience to adopt an opinion or take a certain action.
2. Orator: An orator is a skilled speaker.
3. Rhetoric: The art of communicating ideas is rhetoric.
4. Rhetorical question: A question that does not have to be answered is a rhetorical question.

D. Procedures/Activities
1. Begin with a KWL chart to introduce persuasive writing. With the students, the teacher will complete the K and W sections of the chart. (whole group)
2. Break students into small groups of 3-4. To initiate student discussion ask the students “How do you convince your parents to agree to something you want?” Give students 5 minutes to discuss their answers within their group. Once time is up give small groups time to share their responses with the whole group. (small group – teacher facilitated)
3. Introduce the key vocabulary for the lesson. (teacher lead)
4. Have the students create a Dinah Zike vocabulary book. Students will be adding pages to their vocabulary book throughout the unit. (pgs. 96-97) (individual work)

E. Assessment/Evaluation
1. Students complete the L section of their KWL chart in whole group discussion. (whole group)
2. Completion of lesson 1 section of the vocabulary book

Lesson Two: “Ain’t I a woman”- A Readers Theatre (1 day: 45 minutes)

A. Daily Objectives
1. Concept Objective
   a. Students will gain an awareness of culture around the world through the use of language, literature, writing, and media (adapted from K-4 B III-A 1,2,3)
2. Lesson Content
   a. Speeches (p. 87)
      • Sojourner Truth: “Ain’t I a woman”
3. Skill Objective(s)
   a. The students will actively contribute to a discussion (K-4 B II-A 1)
   b. The students will demonstrate competence in speaking to convey information (K-4 B II-A)
   c. The students will identify key words and discover their relationships (K-4 B I-D 2)

B. Materials
1. 1 teacher copy of Sojourner Truth’s “Ain’t I a woman?” (Appendix B)
2. 3x5 note cards
3. Teacher copy of vocabulary word list (Appendix A)
4. Copy of Only Passing Through: The Story of Sojourner Truth by Anne Rockwell
5. Copies of Readers Theatre performance rubric for each student (Appendix C)

C. Key Vocabulary
   1. Formal language: The style of speaking to inform an audience in personal terms is formal language.
   2. Slang: Casual, informal English is known as slang.
   3. Emotional appeal: Words or ideas that appeal to feelings and emotions are emotional appeal.

D. Procedures/Activities
   1. Read the book “Only Passing Through: The Story of Sojourner Truth” by Anne Rockwell to build students historical background and introduce them to Sojourner Truth’s life experiences. (teacher lead)
   2. Discuss the book and point out the emotional appeal and physical presence that Sojourner Truth possessed and needed for delivering her speech. (whole group)
   3. Introduce vocabulary and allow time for students to add terms to their vocabulary books. (teacher facilitated and individual student work)
   4. Randomly assign lines of speech to each student and have them write their line down on their note card. Allow time for students to read lines in order to become familiar with each part. (teacher facilitated and individual student work)
   5. Discuss rubric with students that will be used to assess their performance. (teacher lead)
   6. Perform Reader’s Theatre as a practice. (whole group)
   7. Allow students to self-evaluate and discuss how improvements can be made. (small group)
   8. Perform Reader’s Theater a second time and allow students to self-evaluate their performance and discuss their results (whole group).

E. Assessment/Evaluation
   1. Teacher observation of student participation
   2. Readers Theatre performance rubric (App C)
   3. Check for updated vocabulary book

Lesson Three: Understanding Patrick Henry’s Speech (1 day; 45 minutes)

A. Daily Objectives
   1. Concept Objective(s)
      a. Students will gain an awareness of culture around the world through the use of language, literature, writing, and media (adapted from K-4 B III-A 1,2,3)

   4. Repetition: The repeating of a sound, word, phrase, or line is repetition.

D. Procedures/Activities
   1. Introduce key vocabulary terms to whole class; discuss (teacher facilitated, whole group)
   2. Give each student a sheet of blank paper to continue working on their vocabulary book. Remind them to follow the procedures from the previous day. (individual work)
   3. Gather students into one group and inform them that they will listen to a speech by Patrick Henry. Tell them to listen very carefully to what is being said and how it makes them feel. (teacher lead)
   4. Listen to speech from the website: http://www..history.org/Almanack/people/bios/biohen.cfm (whole group)
   5. Discuss how the speech made them feel and write their responses on the board. (whole group)
   6. Students will write a short paragraph based on whether they agree or disagree with Patrick Henry’s speech (individual work)
      a. State whether agree or disagree with the speech
      b. Give 3 reasons why agree or disagree
      c. End with a strong conclusion

E. Assessment/Evaluation
   1. Small and large group discussions
   2. Written persuasion paragraph

Lesson Four: The War of Words (1 day: 45 minutes)

A. Daily Objectives
   1. Concept Objective(s)
      a. Students will gain an awareness of culture around the world through the use of language, literature, writing, and media (adapted from K-4 B III-A 1,2,3)
   2. Lesson Content
      a. Speeches (p. 87)
3. Skill Objective(s)
   a. The students will demonstrate competence in speaking to convey information (K-4 B II-A)
   b. The students will produce a variety of written composition (K-4 B II-C1)

B. Materials
   1. Vocabulary books
   2. Student copies of Patrick Henry’s “Give me Liberty or Give me Death!” speech (Appendix D)
   3. A Picture Book of Patrick Henry

C. Key Vocabulary
   1. None

D. Procedures/Activities
   1. Using their vocabulary books, students will review their terms through the Think/Pair/Share strategy. (small group)
      - Think/Pair/Share Instructions
         1. Give the students their vocabulary books.
         2. Tell students to stand up with their books.
         3. Instruct the students to walk around the room as they think about each word for about 1-2 minutes. (There should be no talking during this step.)
         4. Instruct students to stop and pair up with another student while remaining quiet.
         5. After finding a partner, have students share (define) vocabulary words with each other. Allow 1-2 minutes.
         6. Repeat steps 3 and 4 for as long as time permits.
   2. Distribute copies of excerpts of Patrick Henry’s speech
   3. Students listen as teacher reads the first paragraph (excerpt) of speech, which ends with an allusion to the events of the past ten years. (teacher lead)
   4. Teacher then asks students to listen for the major historical events that led up to this speech as he or she reads A Picture Book of Patrick Henry by David A. Adler (or other appropriate book about the American Revolution). (teacher facilitated)
   5. Teacher lists major historical events leading up to Patrick Henry’s speech on board.
   6. Teacher reads second paragraph (excerpt) from speech as students follow along, highlighting the answers to the rhetorical questions in the passage. (teacher lead)
   7. Class discusses the use of rhetorical questions in the art of persuasion. (whole group)
   8. Students listen to the final paragraph (excerpt) of the speech. (teacher lead)
   9. Teacher leads students to list how the orator, Patrick Henry, uses persuasive techniques to convince his audience that it was time for war (i.e. emotional, logical, and ethical appeals). (whole group)

E. Assessment/Evaluation
   1. Informal Assessment-Teacher observation of student participation in class discussion.

Lesson Five: “You Want Me to do What?” - Persuasive Junk-Mail (2 days: 45 minutes each)

A. Daily Objectives
   1. Concept Objective(s)
      a. Students will gain an awareness of culture around the world through the use of language, literature, writing, and media (adapted from K-4 B III-A 1,2,3)
2. Lesson Content
   a. Writing and Usage (p.87)
      • Produce a variety of types of writing—including stories, reports, summaries, descriptions, poems, and letters—with the coherent structure or story line.
      • Know how to gather information from different sources (such as an encyclopedia, magazines, interviews, observations, atlas, online), and write short reports presenting the information in his or her own words, with attention to the following:
         i. Understanding the purpose and audience of the writing
         ii. Defining main idea and sticking to it
         iii. Providing an introduction and conclusion

3. Skill Objective(s)
   a. The students will make oral presentations, using technologies when appropriate with an awareness of audience and purpose (K-4 B II-A 3)
   b. The students will demonstrate the skills and strategies of the writing process (K-4 B II-C)
   c. The students will produce a variety of written composition (K-4 B II-C1)
   d. The students will use planning strategies and organize ideas (K-4 B II-C2)
   e. The students will demonstrate competence in speaking to convey information (K-4 B II-A)

B. Materials
   1. Notebook paper for each student
   2. Pencils for each student
   3. Highlighters or markers for each student
   4. Magazines (ones that can be written on or have pages torn from)
   5. “Junk – Mail” and advertisement papers
   6. Newspapers

C. Key Vocabulary
   1. none

D. Procedures/Activities
   1. Briefly review persuasive writing and the previous lessons’ vocabulary words. Students refer to their completed vocabulary books. (whole group)
   2. Break students into small groups of 3-4. Distribute a variety of newspapers, magazines, and other advertisement materials to each group.
   3. As small groups, students will analyze the advertisements noting the colors, word choice, and graphics used in the ads. They may highlight catchy phrases and other persuading elements of the articles. Then students will note what they see on their notebook paper. (small group)
   4. Teacher will walk around the room, sitting briefly in on small groups to facilitate discussion and to evaluate student understanding.
   5. To close the lesson, have student groups share their findings from the advertisements. They will discuss the phrases, colors, and graphics used in the different advertisements. (whole group)

E. Assessment/Evaluation
   1. Teacher will assess students’ comprehension of concepts and skills while sitting in on small group discussions.

Lesson Six: Group Persuasive Debates (1 day; 45 minutes)

A. Daily Objectives
1. Concept Objective(s)
   a. Students will gain an awareness of culture around the world through the use of language, literature, writing, and media (adapted from K-4 B III-A 1,2,3)

2. Lesson Content
   a. Writing and Usage (p. 87)
      • Produce a variety of types of writing-including stories, reports, summaries, descriptions, poems, and letters-with the coherent structure or story line.

3. Skill Objective(s)
   a. The students will actively contribute to a discussion (K-4 B II-A 1)
   b. The students will produce a variety of written composition (K-4 B II-C1)
   c. The students will demonstrate competence in speaking to convey information (K-4 B II-A)
   d. The students will make oral presentations, using technologies when appropriate with an awareness of audience and purpose (K-4 B II-A 3)
   e. The students will sing or speak using appropriate vocal techniques while maintaining rhythm and beat (adapted K-4 B I A)

B. Materials
   1. Paper for every student
   2. Lined paper for every student
   3. Key Vocabulary (Appendix A)

C. Key Vocabulary
   1. Debate – A discussion involving opposing viewpoints is a debate.

D. Procedures/Activities
   1. Introduce key vocabulary term to whole class; discuss (whole group)
   2. Divide the class into 4 groups with an equal number of students in each group. Teacher will assign group 1 the topic of why Coke is better than Dr. Pepper and group 2 the topic of why Dr. Pepper is better than Coke. Teacher will assign group 3 the topic of why a sports car is better than a truck, and group 4 the topic of why a truck is better than a sports car. (small group)
   3. Each group will discuss among each other and write down their arguments. Remind them that they are trying to persuade their audience to choose their side. (small group)
      a. Each member of the group provides two reasons that support their arguments.
      b. As a group they narrow their reasons down to the top five. Students then prepare notes of their arguments to be presented to the whole group.
   4. Groups 1 and 2 will present their speeches to groups 3 and 4. Each group will be allowed to answer questions presented by fellow groups. When groups 1 and 2 are finished, groups 3 and 4 will present their speeches and answer questions. (whole group)
      a. Members of the audience, not presenting, will choose which product to support after hearing the arguments presented from the other groups. The teacher will record the results on the board.
      b. After choosing products, volunteers will be asked to share the reasons why they were persuaded to support one product over the other.
   5. Gather together as a class and discuss how each group tried to persuade the audience and how they could better their presentations. (whole group)

E. Assessment/Evaluation
   1. Small and large group discussions
   2. Written arguments
Lesson Seven: Writing Process and Research (1 day; 45 minutes)

A. Daily Objectives
   1. Concept Objective(s)
      a. Students will gain an awareness of culture around the world through the use of language, literature, writing, and media (adapted from K-4 B III-A 1,2,3)
   2. Lesson Content
      a. Writing and Usage (p. 87)
         • Know how to gather information from different sources (such as an encyclopedia magazines interviews observations atlas online), and write short reports presenting the information in his or her own words, with attention to the following:
         • Understanding the purpose and audience of the writing
         • Defining main idea and sticking to it
         • Providing an introduction and conclusion
   3. Skill Objective(s)
      a. The students will actively contribute to a discussion (K-4 B II-A 1)
      b. The students will use planning strategies and organize ideas (K-4 B II-C2)

B. Materials
   1. Power Point Presentation (Appendix E)
   2. Pieces of chalk for each small group
   3. Writing Process Cheat Sheet for every student (Appendix F)
   4.

C. Key Vocabulary
   1. Brainstorming: A technique for gathering information and getting ideas with full group participation is brainstorming.
   2. Prewriting: The preparation of piece of writing is called prewriting.
   3. Drafting: The first draft of a writing piece that needs to be polished or a sloppy copy is called drafting.
   4. Editing: Putting a piece of writing into an acceptable form is called editing.
   5. Rewriting: Rewriting involves correcting all mistakes in a piece of writing.
   6. Publishing: Preparing a final draft of a piece of writing to be read by others is called publishing.

D. Procedures/Activities
   1. Review the writing process by showing the Writing Process PowerPoint. Allow time for question/answer session in between slides. (whole group)
   2. Point out key vocabulary terms presented in the Power Point. (teacher facilitated)
   3. Put students into small groups of 4-5. Take students outside to a basketball court or concrete area. In case of inclement weather this activity can be completed indoors using masking tape to outline the ladder. (small group, teacher monitored)
   4. Give each group a piece of chalk and have the groups draw a ladder with 6 rungs with spaces large enough for one student to stand in each. Each rung is labeled with one of the 6 writing process stages. (small group)
   5. To complete the activity one student steps into the first rung and must describe the writing stage correctly. (small group)
   6. The student continues to climb the ladder until all 6 stages are described correctly. Once the student has completed the ladder correctly it is the next student’s turn. If the student makes a mistake they must go to the end of the line and the next student begins climbing the ladder. (small group)
   7. Continue this activity as long as time permits.
8. The teacher will walk around the groups monitoring student progress and answering any questions.

E. Assessment/Evaluation
1. Teacher observation
2. Student participation

Lesson Eight: Convince Me! (2 days: 45 minutes each)

A. Daily Objectives
1. Concept Objective(s)
   a. Students will gain an awareness of culture around the world through the use of language, literature, writing, and media (adapted from K-4 B III-A 1,2,3)
2. Lesson Content:
   a. Writing and Usage (p.87)
      • Produce a variety of types of writing—including stories, reports, summaries, descriptions, poems, and letters—with the coherent structure or story line.
      • Know how to gather information from different sources (such as an encyclopedia, magazines, interviews, observations, atlas, online), and write short reports presenting the information in his or her own words, with attention to the following:
         • Understanding the purpose and audience of the writing
         • Defining main idea and sticking to it
         • Providing an introduction and conclusion
3. Skill Objective(s)
   a. The students will demonstrate the skills and strategies of the writing process (K-4 B II-C)
   b. The students will produce a variety of written compositions. (K-4 B II-C1)
   c. The students will use planning strategies and organize ideas. (K-4 B II-C2)

B. Materials
1. Whiteboard, markers
2. Examples of facts and opinions
3. Student copies of Convince Me! (Appendix G)
4. Thesauruses for students
5. Pencils and paper for every student

C. Key Vocabulary
1. None

D. Procedures/Activities
1. Students will review the difference between facts and opinions through a game led by the teacher. The teacher will provide examples of facts and opinions. If the statement is a fact, the students will give thumbs up. If the statement is an opinion, the students give thumbs down. (whole group, teacher lead)
2. The teacher discusses with students that both facts and opinions are used to write persuasive essays. (whole group)
3. The teacher creates two columns on the board for facts and opinions, and then leads students in a brainstorming session over a thesis statement. (i.e. our school lunch break needs to be longer; I need more allowance money; We should have a candy machine in our room, etc.) (whole group or small groups)
4. The students provide examples of facts and opinions to support the teacher’s thesis statement, listing them under the appropriate column on the board. (whole group)
5. After a class discussion about using facts and opinions in their persuasive writing, the teacher will provide several examples of thesis statements (or have students generate ideas) for their persuasive writing. (i.e. You should play on a team; Have more recess; Campaign for a classroom pet—dog, fish, etc.; We should read more...) (teacher facilitated)

6. Once the students have selected their topic(s), the teacher will outline a format for them to follow: Introduction, body, conclusion.

7. The teacher provides guidelines for the students as they start their first drafts ( sloppy copies).

E. Assessment/Evaluation

1. Informal Assessment-Teacher observation of student participation in class discussion.

Lesson Nine: Editing (1 day: 45 minutes)

A. Daily Objectives

1. Concept Objective(s)
   a. Students will gain an awareness of culture around the world through the use of language, literature, writing, and media (adapted from K-4 B III-A 1,2,3)

   b. The students will demonstrate the skills and strategies of the writing process (K-4 B II-C)
   c. The students will produce a variety of written composition (K-4 B II-C1)
   d. The students will use planning strategies and organize ideas (K-4 B II-C2)
   e. The students will demonstrate competence in speaking to convey information (K-4 B II-A)

B. Materials

1. Editing Checklist (Appendix H)
2. Dictionary for student use
3. Thesaurus for student use
4. Colored pen or colored pencil for editing for each student
5. Completed student persuasive speeches

C. Key Vocabulary

1. None

D. Procedures/Activities

1. Briefly review editing techniques from the writing process. (whole group)
2. Break students into pairs.
3. Pass out the Editing Checklist, one per student. (partner work)
4. Students will edit each other’s persuasive speech using their colored pen or pencil. They will refer to the Editing Checklist. (partner work)
5. The teacher will monitor the class, helping when needed, and listening to the students as they work with their partners.

E. Assessment/Evaluation
   1. Teacher will assess students as he/she monitors student pairs while they edit each other’s speeches.
   2. Edited speeches.

Lesson Ten: Proofreading/Revision of Paper (1 day; 45 minutes)

A. Daily Objectives
   1. Concept Objective(s)
      a. Students will gain and demonstrate an awareness of culture around the world through the use of language, literature, writing, and media (adapted from K-4 B III-A 1,2,3)

   3. Skill Objective(s)
      a. The students will demonstrate the skills and strategies of the writing process (K-4 B II-C)
      b. The students will use planning strategies and organize ideas (K-4 B II-C2)
      c. The students will produce a variety of written composition (K-4 B II-C1)

B. Materials
   1. Written persuasive speech
   2. Pencils for each student
   3. Red pen for proofreading/corrections for each student

C. Key Vocabulary
   1. None

D. Procedures/Activities
   1. Review with students the concept of editing. (whole group)
   2. Tell students that they will have 3 different fellow students reading their speech and making comments and circling errors they may find. Remind students to check for spelling, punctuation of contractions, titles, and complete sentences, and to look for errors in grammar. (whole group, student interaction)
   3. Each student will then proofread their own paper and check for errors missed by their peers. (individual work)

E. Assessment/Evaluation
   1. Proofread paper with marks

Lesson Eleven: Publishing (1 day: 45 minutes)

A. Daily Objectives
   1. Concept Objectives
      a. Students will gain an awareness of culture around the world through the use of language, literature, writing, and media (adapted from K-4 B III-A 1,2,3)
   2. Lesson Content
a. Writing and Usage (p.87)

     • Understanding the purpose and audience of the writing
     • Defining main idea and sticking to it
     • Providing an introduction and conclusion

3. Skill Objective(s)
a. The students will make oral presentations, using technologies when appropriate with an awareness of audience and purpose (K-4 B II-A 3)
b. The students will demonstrate the skills and strategies of the writing process (K-4 B II-C)
c. The students will produce a variety of written composition (K-4 B II-C1)
d. The students will use planning strategies and organize ideas (K-4 B II-C2)
e. The students will demonstrate competence in speaking to convey information (K-4 B II-A)

B. Materials
1. Edited student persuasive speech
2. Notebook paper for every student
3. Pencil or black/blue pen (teacher preference) for every student
4. Persuasive Writing Rubric (Appendix I)

C. Key Vocabulary
1. None

D. Procedures/Activities
1. Briefly review the writing process, focusing on editing and revision. (whole group)
2. Have students Think/Pair/Share discussing persuasive writing. Allow 5 minutes for their small group review. (small group)
3. Students will rewrite their edited and revised speech. Their speech will be ready for oral presentation. (individual work)
4. The teacher will monitor students as they complete the publishing of their speeches.

E. Assessment/Evaluation
1. The teacher will assess the students as they write their final draft.
2. Completed speeches.

Lesson Twelve: Oral Presentation of Persuasive Speeches (2 days; 45 minutes each)
A. Daily Objectives
1. Concept Objective(s)
a. Students will gain an awareness of culture around the world through the use of language, literature, writing, and media (adapted from K-4 B III-A 1,2,3)

a. The students will make oral presentations, using technologies when appropriate with an awareness of audience and purpose (K-4 B II-A 3)
b. The students will sing or speak using appropriate vocal techniques while maintaining rhythm and beat (adapted K-4 B I A)

B. Materials
1. Written persuasive speech
2. Notebook paper for every student
3. Pencils for every student
4. Persuasive Speech Rubric (1 copy per student to reference; 1 copy per student for teacher to score) (Appendix J)

C. Key Vocabulary
1. None

D. Procedures/Activities
1. Inform students that for the next couple of days, they will be presenting their speeches to the class. (teacher facilitated)
2. Tell students as they listen to each speech, they need to identify the speaker’s main idea and supporting details, interpret the speaker’s message, purpose, and perspective
3. Students will need to have a sheet of ruled paper to keep track of the scores they give to each presenter. (individual student work presentation)
4. After each oral speech is presented, students will score the presenter according to the rubric.

E. Assessment/Evaluation
1. Individual scoring pages
2. Teacher scoring rubric

VI. CULMINATING ACTIVITY (4-5 days: 45 minutes each)
Creative Commercials (Each lesson title should reflect specific Core Knowledge content)
A. Daily Objectives
1. Concept Objective(s)
   a. Students will gain an awareness of culture around the world through the use of language, literature, writing, and media (adapted from K-4 B III-A 1,2,3)

(Lesson 2)
Ain’t I a woman?

Well, children, where there is so much racket there must be something out of kilter.

I think that 'twixt the negroes of the South and the women at the North, all talking about rights, the white men will be in a fix pretty soon. But what's all this here talking about?

That man over there says that women need to be helped into carriages, and lifted over ditches, and to have the best place everywhere.

Nobody ever helps me into carriages, or over mud-puddles, or gives me any best place! And ain't I a woman?

Look at me! Look at my arm! I have ploughed and planted, and gathered into barns, and no man could head me! And ain't I a woman?

I could work as much and eat as much as a man - when I could get it - and bear the lash as well! And ain't I a woman?

I have borne thirteen children, and seen most all sold off to slavery, and when I cried out with my mother's grief, none but Jesus heard me! And ain't I a woman?

Then they talk about this thing in the head; what's this they call it? [member of audience whispers, "intellect"] That's it, honey. What's that got to do with women's rights or negroes' rights?

If my cup won't hold but a pint, and yours holds a quart, wouldn't you be mean not to let me have my little half measure full?

Then that little man in black there, he says women can't have as much rights as men, 'cause Christ wasn't a woman! Where did your Christ come from? Where did your Christ come from? From God and a woman! Man had nothing to do with Him.

If the first woman God ever made was strong enough to turn the world upside down all alone, these women together ought to be able to turn it back, and get it right side up again!

And now they is asking to do it, the men better let them.

Obliged to you for hearing me, and now old Sojourner ain't got nothing more to say.

Excerpts from Patrick Henry’s Speech
“Give me liberty or give me death”

I have but one lamp by which my feet are guided, and that is the lamp of experience. I know of no way of judging of the future but by the past. And judging by the past, I wish to know what there has been in the conduct of the British ministry for the last ten years to justify those hopes [for peace] …

Are fleets and armies necessary to a work of love and reconciliation? … Let us not deceive ourselves. … These are the implements of war. … Has Great Britain any enemy, in this quarter of the world, to call for all this accumulation of navies and armies? No, she has none. They are meant for us: they can be meant for no other. They are sent over to bind and rivet upon us those chains which the British ministry have been so long forging. And what have we to oppose to them? Shall we try argument? … We have been trying that for the last ten years. Have we anything new to offer upon the subject? Nothing. We have held the subject up in every light of which it is capable; but it has been all in vain. …

Gentlemen may cry, Peace, Peace—-but there is no peace. The war is actually begun! The next gale that sweeps from the north will bring to our ears the clash of resounding arms! Our brethren are already in the field! Why stand we here idle? What is it that gentlemen wish? What would they have? Is life so dear, or peace so sweet, as to be purchased at the price of chains and slavery? Forbid it, Almighty God! I know not what course others may take; but as for me, give me liberty or give me death!

Write On, Baby! Power Point Presentation
(Outline)

Write On, Baby!
The Writing Process
Brainstorming: Flashy Ideas
Prewriting: Let it Flow!
  ● Narrow your topic
  ● Organize research-graphic organizers
  ● Draw a plan
  ● Think about your purpose and audience
  ● Free write without stopping to think; whatever comes into your head
  ● Sloppy copy

Drafting: Compose Your Prose
  ● Plug in your personality and voice
  ● Sentence fluency-complete thoughts
  ● Add details
  ● Answer who, what, when, where, why, and how questions
  ● Word choice

Editing: Check it Out!
  ● Capitalization
  ● Punctuation
  ● Spelling-use dictionary and peers
  ● Sentence structure
  ● Grammar and usage-noun, verbs etc.
  ● Paragraphs

Rewriting: A New Perspective
  ● Get feedback from others
  ● What works, what doesn’t
  ● Does it make sense?
  ● Are my ideas clear?
  ● Did I get point across?
  ● Can I make it more exciting?
  ● Is the style for the audience correct?

Publishing: Your Public Awaits!
  ● Final copy-”The Finished Project”
  ● Use technology to print a clean, correct copy
  ● Illustrate
  ● Share it

(Lesson 8)
Convince Me!
(Guidelines for Persuasive Writing)

Introduction: You want to grab your audience’s attention! You could:
• Make a dramatic statement
• Tell a brief story
• Start with a catchy phrase

Once you have their attention, state your opinion clearly.

Body: State your 3 (or more) reasons to support your opinion.
Each reason should be developed into a paragraph.
• Support each reason with facts, details, or examples so your audience will agree with you.
• List your strongest reason last.
• Use emotional (powerful) words that create strong reactions (i.e. replace strong storms with violent or fierce storms). Students will need to use a thesaurus.
• Ask rhetorical questions so that listeners think about their answers.
  (i.e. Why shouldn’t we have longer recesses? What’s wrong with having a fish for a class pet?)

Conclusion: Restate your opinion and call your readers to action!
• Repeat your opinion in a slightly different way.
• Use a quote, story, or some other dramatic statement.
• End with an emotional appeal or a rhetorical question.
• Leave your audience with an idea they can remember.
• End with a Bang!
